Sydney Merning Bera't. MONDAY, Al GUST 22, 1868.

Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I. THE SAVIN'S' BANK.
We have before us the Bill introduced by the Government to amend and con-solidated the law relating to the Savings' Bank of New South Wales.

This measure has been considered necessary, in order to facilitate the in-vestment of the large and now constantly accumulating sums which are deposited in the Savings' Bank. The COLONIAL ESCRETARY stated that no less than £350,000 was lying in the Bank, which it was found very difficult to dispose of under the present law; and we believe the aggregate deposits may be fairly set down at half a million sterling. The principal features of the new measure are, first, the incorporation of the Trustees, under the title Trustees of the Savings' Bank of New South Wales. In these trustees are vested all lands, tenements, and hereditaments belonging to the Bank, as well as all securities, bonds, mortgages &c., which have hitherto stood in the name of the VICE-PRESIDENT. The Go VERNOR of the colony is constituted President of the Bank, and a Vice-President and a Managing Trustee are to be appointed by the Board. Power is ther given to the Bank to invest their mone in public securities, comprehending "all debentures or other forms of security ssued or granted by the Government the colony, and secured upon the general, territorial, or casual revenues thereof, and every public debt contracted by or on behalf of such Government under the authority of the Legislature of the colony, and all shares and other securities bear ing a fixed rate of interest guaranteed by such Government either permanently or until payment of an ascertained principal Power is also given to invest on mortgage of real estates; provided that no loan upon mortgage shall exceed the amount of five thousand pounds to any one person, and also provided that only a certain portion (to be determined in Committee) of the whole moneys de-posited shall be lent on mortgage. It is also made lawful for the Bank to lend money to the Corporation of Sydney or to any other body legally constituted for the management of the affairs of the city, provided that every sum so lent shall be ecured as a first charge upon the revenue

To the foregoing provisions we see no valid objection; but we are not prepared valid objection; but we are not prepared. vain objection; but we are not prepared to admit the propriety of the next clause, by which the power of investment is ex-tended to liens upon wool, or mortgages of sheep, cattle, and horses in the coony, and of the mortgagor's interest in the huts or stations on which they are depasturing.

The principal object of a Savings Bank is to afford a secure means of investment for those small sums of money which a man in moderate circumstances may be able to put by, until he has ac cumulated enough to enter into a trade or speculation on his own account, or to provide against sickness or an inability to work; and we are of epinion that the channels of Government securities which are convertible without difficulty, and to real estate, in which a certain portion of the funds may with great safety and propriety be permanently invested. The fluctuations which have taken place in the money value of stock in this colony have been so great, that it would be far from easy to nake a safe estimate of the amount to be advanced on the security of any given number of sheep or cattle; and with reference to wool, which is strictly an article of commerce, the effect would be under cover of this apparently legitimate transaction Mr. BIDDLE, the president, and his friends entered into large cotton speculations; raised the price of the article unduly; a revulsion ensued, and the speculation ended in the total wreck of one of the most powerful moneyed institutions which have ever been esta-blished. We think it unwise and unsafe to open the door to the possibility of a similar abuse of the power to invest; and if we seek precedents in England, we believe it will be found that no such power is given to the savings' banks there. With respect to the remaining clauses they are generally good. Power is given to the Bank to borrow money, not exceeding £50,000, to enable them to meet

The tenth clause, however, we consider objectionable. By that clause, the nomination of accountants in Sydney and the country districts s given to the trustees, but subject to the approval and appointment of the Governor: and the trustees are not to appoint even the clerks and other subor dinate officers without the previous approval of the Governor. We do not learly see the object of these restrictions It appears to us that the responsibility of making these appointments ought properly to rest on the Board of Trustees only. The Governor having already the appointment of those trustees, his approval of their choice of subordinate officers may be fairly assum and any further interference of the Government in the details of the manage ment would be invidious and unneces sary, and only tend to lessen the responsibility of those with whom the appointment must really rest.

Mr. Chambers.

Mr. Broachurst and Mr. Fawcett appeared for the plaintiff; att eney, Mr. Turner. The Solicitor-General for the defendant; attorney, Mr. Chambers.

Mr. Pawcerr having opened the plaintiff is case, and called Patrick Brady: Is the plaintiff in this action; knows the defendant Heugh; on the 12th of November last, took 145 bushels of wheat to West Maitland to the defendant, and saked him if he would ship the wheat for me to dydney; he said he would, as he had three craft then plying to Sydney, and that he would charge me 81. per bushel; I then told him that unless he sent it within a-week, I would make other arrangements; defendant then guaranteed to send the wheat to Bydney by the following Thursday, or perhaps before; I then agreed to give him the 8d, per bushel; took the wheat to Morpeth that day and delivered it to a clerk at Mr. Heugh's store, and took a receipt for it; the wheat was in good condition when I delivered it; I was offered 11s. 6d, per bushel for it a few days before; saw plaintiff same afternoon that I left the wheat, and told him that it was consigned to Cohen in Sydney; he then said that his agent was Mr. Craig, and he would rather consign it to him; I consented to his doing so; on the 8th December I wrote to Mr. Heugh for an account saigs of my wheat, and received in reply a letter informing me that the wheat had not yet been sent to Sydney, and advising me not to send the wheat on to Sydney; and estimating my loss at £30; I was not then aware that the wheat was damaged, but when I saw it on the 22nd December; it was very much damaged by tallow mixing with it, and weevit; I then ordered it to be sold by public suction (it was so much damaged that Mr. Portus would not take it into his mill.); Mr. Ledaam sold it about the 27th or 29th December, at Maitland, for 2s. 6d. per bushel; defendant was present at the sale; before the sale took place defendant's partner (Hogan) offered me 50s. for the loss, but I said as many pounds would not compensate me.

to convert the Savings' Bank into a commercial company, which is, on many accounts, improper and undesirable.

The principle of restricting banks from entering into commercial transactions is, we believe, universally admitted. A very remarkable instance of the mischief which may accrue from the contrary principle was shown in the case of the United States Bank, some twelve or thirteen years ago. The managers of that institution began by advancing money on consignments of cotton; and under cover of this apparently legitimate Maitland, nor at any time for ten days' before; Mr. Portus did not see the whest before it was stored, it was twelve bushels short when taken out of the store. Mr. Tees ground the whest afterwards : I sued Mr. Tees for the bags and have and gree a readily and actions him.

wheat afterwards: I sued Mr. Tees for the bage and bran, and got a verdict against him. Patrick Brady, junior, examined: Knows the plaintiff, is no relative of his; went with him to Heugh's store with two loads of wheat; it was good sound wheat; in no respect injures; saw defendant and plaintiff after the wheat was delivered; plaintiff asked defendant when would he be able to send the wheat to Bydney? Defendant said he would send it by the craft which was to arrive on Tuesday or Wednesday next; saw the wheat afterwards at Morpeth, in Heugh's store; can't say the exact time; it was then very hot and mixed with tallow.

Cross-examined by the Solicitor-Germans:

Morpeth, in Heugh's store; can't say the exact time; it was then very hot and mixed with tallow.

Cross-examined by the Solicitoro-Germal:
Had some wheat of my own in the same store; it remained there about two months or so; my wheat was stored on one side, and plaintiffs on the other; there was some weevil in my wheat, but it was not damaged in any way; I took away my wheat before plaintiff took away his.

Patrick Burke, examined: Sold the plaintiff some wheat on 7th November last, for 10s. a bushel; it was perfectly sound and free from weevil when sold; I sold the plaintiff 145 bushels, and delivered it at Singleton.

John Byrnes, clerk to Mr. William Micholson, proved that wheat had depreciated in value about December last; that the average value would be from 7s. to 8s. 5d. per bushel, but might vary a little according to the sample.

James Portus, miller, proved that in November last good whear, free from weevil, would be worth from 8s. to 8s. 6d. per bushel; did not see plaintiffs wheat when it was stored at Morpeth; saw a sample only; it was not very superior, somewhat weevil eaten; prisoner saked me to grind the wheat, but we declined, as the mill was about being repaired.

This was the case for the plaintiff.

THE CONSTITUTION.

TO THE COLORISTS OF NEW BOUTH WALES.

PELLOW COLONISTS, — The form of a Constitution for this country, framed by a Select Committee of the Legislative Council, is now before you, with a statement of its principles, from the Chairman of that Committee. It is for you to determine whether you will accept the Government thus sought to be imposed upon you. The necessity of obtaining an expression of your opiniors upon this matter has been questioned. It has been asserted, that the power of creating and calling into existence the Government which is intended to bind you, and those who are to come after you, has been expressly delegated to the Legislative Body now in existence—a body composed parily of men who are not your representatives, and partly of those who are located at a time when this particular form of Constitution had not been publicly announced.

It is proposed by the Bills now before the Legislative Council to create a Parliament of New South Wales—a name venerable travesure. You are to have a double Legislature, but the Upper Hou e is to be primarily composed of nominees of the Crown, and to merge ultimately into the hands of a small privileged hereditary class. This mock House of Lords is to have co-ordinate powers of legislation with the Lower House of Representatives, except with regard to Money Bills. The latter THE CONSTITUTION.

is to have co-ordinate powers of legislation with the Lower House of Representatives, ex-cept with regard to Money Bills. The latter cept with regard to Money Bills. The latter massembly is to be built upon the same elective basis as the present Legislative Council, but the eighteen scats to be vacated by the nomidees will be supplied by the same number of elective members, of whom two only are to be given to the city of Sydney and its suburbe, and two to the county of Cumberland. In short the electoral distribution effected by the Act of 1851 is to remain intact, that measure being emphatically pronounced to be perfect in principle!

the electoral distribution effected by the Act of 1851 is to remain intact, that measure being emphatically pronounced to be perfect in principle!

Frilow Colonists—It is asserted by Mr. Wentworth that nominated Upper Houses of Legislature are in accordance with the principles of the British Constitutions, and that upon this model the Constitutions of the earlier colonial dependencies of the British Crown in North America were framed. The historical facts are far from sustaining the analogy which Mr. Wentworth seeks to establish. Wherever the semblance of a nobility (chortlived as it in all cases proved to be) sprung up in the chartered colonies, it was a mere emanation and adjunct of the proprietary rights conferred on the patentees—a kind of dominion which even Mr. Wentworth will be scarcely bold enough to set over the land and people of New Bouth Wales. In some cases, the Executive or Privy Councils of the Governor, by deliberating on measures of the Legislative Amembly presented for his acceptance, and by proposing amendments in the "sy of comprenies, to avert the exercise of his right of rejection, appear to have gradually usurped some of the functions of the Upper House of Legislature. Nothing really corresponding with the Constitution proposed by the present Bill was introduced into a British colony until the passing of the Quebec Act, of 1791—an Act framed for a dependency then recently conquered—passed by a Tory Ministry, with the sid of a Tory Par-Quebec Act, of 1791—an Act framed for a dependency then recently conquered—passed by a Tory Ministry, with the sid of a Tory Parliament, who were scared by revolutionary terrora, and by the fear of a French Mational Assembly; illusions which sufficed to warp the judgment of those great statesmen, Burke, and Pitt, and Wilberforce, but which failed to make the consistent champion of public liberty, the illustrious Charles James Fox. He vehemently opposed the measure, and its results have too well justified the wisdom of his opposition. Collisions between the Lower and Upper Houses continually kept the colony in confusion, and terminated in a rebellion, which compelled the Government to make changes and concessions that have now brought many of the rebel party into offices under the Crown. In their present Constitution, remodelled in some other respects, the nominee element has been again introduced; but already we are informed by Earl Grey, in his recent work on colonial polloy, that it is working badly and likely to prove an utter failure. The advocates of the nomine principle can only support it by the streety pd can of stemming the tide of description of the protect that they are not fit for self government, the great attractive and the road, and take the forest high ground. The rivers and creaks could only be passed by forming raffs, and towing the gold boxes over one at a time, with a caded in charge. By unwearied exertions the whole was asfely converged.

The advocates of the only consisting of the Post of the protect that they are not fit for self government, the great attractive to the colonies; to recognise us as men, and not included the principle of election, even in the formation of a Upper Chamber, has now been approved by the leading members of rearges on Saturday's drunkard list at the Central Police Office.—no fewer than 19, favored the mind of British statement, and noting the colonies; to recognise us as men, and not was a facily controlled to the colonies; to recognise us as men, and not was a colonies; to recognise us as men, and not was ablidy and the province of the case of the controlled the province of the case of the controlled the province of the case of the ca unbiassed choice of those who are to make laws for them has been obstinately withheld. More enlightered views are now found to pervade the minds of British statesmen, and the principle of election, even in the formation of an Upper Chamber, has now been approved by the leading members of recent Administrations. They are willing to deal out tardy justice to the colonies; to recognise us as men, and not as children; to restore to us our great and glorious birthright. It is for you to say whether this wise and noble purpose is to be defeared by our own unwise and selfish class legislators.

PRILOW-COLOMISTS - Mr. Wentworth has appealed to experience to prove the inefficiency of elective legislatures and representative governments. Read, and judge for yourselves, whether history justifies his deductions, or whether, in this again, his inferences are not entirely unsupported. Tell Mr. Wentworth and his supporters, however, that you do not demand a Republican Form of government, but your own old and cherished British Liberty, which is now threatened with destruction. Tell him not to hood-wink you with the fallacy that there is any real analogy between his proposed Nomines Chamber and the British House of Lords; that you have better understood the history of your have better understood the history of your ments in shape and make, nicely trimmed with

The pretence is too heliow to mislead you.

Fillow Coloniars!—You, and those who are fighting with you this battle for your liberties, are charged with innorance of the principles of government, and with inability to suggest a form of Constitution for this colony, embodying the great principle of popular election for which they contend. In accordance with what they esteem to be your rights and wishes, they demand in your name an Elective Legislature, to consist of an Elective House of Assembly, and an Elective Legislature, to consist of an Elective House of Assembly, and an Elective Legislature, to consist of an Elective Legislature and wishes, they demand in your name an Elective Legislature, to consist of an Elective Legislature, to consist of an Elective Total Council. Boarding and Lodging House.

R. A. POLACK has received instructions to sell by public asction, on THURSDAY, the lat September, at Russell's Long Room, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock, The lucky Corner of Hunter, Pitt, and O'Connell street, in prospective.

In describing this property its situation is as follows:—It is the corner of that portion of grund formerly belonging to W. C. Wentworth, Esq., M.L.C., having a frontage of 13½ feet to Campbell-street, 66 feet to Linabeth-street, and 54 feet to Market-lane,—the three sides separated by the streets above mentioned being faced by the Albion Baker, the Cheshire Cheese (kept by Mr. Coquelin), the Albion Inn (by Mr. Potter), the property of Mr. Kosten, and the other side by the property of W. J. Dwyer, Esq.

It is useless to expatiste upon the merits of this well-known valuable coraer, It is sufficient in itself, without any comment from the auctioneer, to point out to the public its value in the present day. Yet it is the duty of Mr. P. to state, the situation is not to be equalled for a building as above stated.

A plan on view at the rooms of the auctioneer.

The Pride of the Surry Hills.

R. A. POLACK has been instructed to sell by public auction, on THURS-DAY, the lat September.

FOUR ALLOIMENTS OF GROUND, situate in Bourke-atreet, on the Surry Hills, very nearly opposite the Chapel, and a short distance from Jesmond-terrace, adjoining the residence of Mrs. Iredale, the northern boundary being the southern boundary of the new atone houses now erecting by Mr. Builder Dooley for Mr. Breanand, and only about 30 feet from the residence of Mr. Arkell, a short distance from the Queen's Arms, immediately opposite the Darling-hurst Court House, Bourke-street separating the Queen's Arms from the Victoris Hotel. Two of these allotments have a frontage of 18 feet each to Bourke-street,—the other two allotments have frontages to Barker-street; and Mr. Polack, without the slightest degree of hesitation, says that a bit of ground in the city of Sydney that will cause greater competition for the lucky man who might be fortunate to possess it, is not to be excelled even in George-street.

impression it has already made on the public mind.

In the first place, the panoramic view from this property is contrasted and relieved by such scenery as cannot in many places be found in England; such, for instance, on the northern side is the splendid harbour of Port Jackson, with its numerous bays and islands and the continual moving scene of her Britannic Majesty's ships and other vessels, wafted on the smooth water to and from all portions of the globe. The south commanding a view of the immortalised and placid water of Botany Bay, relieved in the foreground by the prolific and the numerous villas and cottages attached to them. The north-western aspect commands a picturesque view of the beautiful mansions and park grounds of Darlinghurst and Woolloomooloo. Last, though not least, the whole of the gratd capital of the southern hemisphere, with the superb Blue Mountains in the distant horizon.

Taking therefore into due equalderation the healthy situation of this highly favoured spot, it need only be man-ed that the citie of the aristocracy of NEW SOUTH WALES.

the delightful and refreshing sea breeze setting in daily from the vast expanse of the SOUTH PACIFIC OCRAN, such another spot will not for many a day hence, if ever at all, present itself.

If, in place of pleasure, profit be in the mind's eye of the purchaser, the capitalist will not find such a great advantage us opportunity again occur, and builders might realise independent fortunes by the erection of respectable H suses or Cottages thereon, which will soon be overtenanted, as r-quirements for such buildings are in this beautiful neighbourhood in excessive great demand, and will be more so daily.

If there ever was an opportunity for the abilities of an Auctioneer to bring forward a property that is to be sold without any reserve, it would be impossible for him to lay before the public the value of a property like this, which is incalculable.

First—Mr. P. has called this the Heights of Waverley without deviating from the paths of rectitude; but he finds that property in the neighbourhood not similarly situated has been styled by other Auctioners since Mr. P.'s first announcement, as the Heights of Waverley, and the Waverley Heights.

If such is applied to situations not deserving of such a charheter, what must this property be when it has been recommended by the Select Committee of the Legislative Council on the great questions of supplying Sydney with pure water. Colonel George Borney, M.L.C., formerly Chief Commander in the Royal Ordnance Department, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of North Australia, and now Chief Commissioner of the Crown Lands of New South Wales, Chairman of the Water Works Committee, &c., &c., &c., in his report laid before Her Majesty's representative in this colony, His Excelency Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy, Knight Companion of the Hanoverian Guelphic Order, Governor-General of all her Majesty's Australian Possessions, and Captain-General and Governor-in-Chief of the territory of New South Wales and its dependencies, to whem it has been recommended for her Majesty's Government to resume this highly valuable, select, and not to be equalled for size and prolific magnitude. In fact, if the Balmain properties have realized £250 per acre, without a drop of water, or a bit of ground to put a cabbage in without artificial means, exposed as it is under a tropical sun; why common sense, without the said of an auctioner, will tell any man, if he has any brains at all, that this property must be worth, from its advantages, in value

THE CHIPPENDALE GRANT. wenty Allotments of the above justly cele brated Estate, apportioned out for sale by order of W. C. Wentworth, Eq., M.L.C.

WR. A. POLACK has been com

MR. A. POLACK has been commissioned to announce for sale, by public auction, at Russell's Long Room, on TUESDAY, the 30th August, at 1 o'clock, Twenty Allotments of the above well-known and really valuable estate.

Since the last sale effected by Mr. A. Polack, of a portion of this original grant, the applications of individuals anxious to become proprietors of a part of the same have been so exceedingly great that the proprietor thereof has been prevailed upon to cause a public sale to be effected; and when the peculiar locality of the same is duly apprecisted, it will be found that such another spot for health, picturesque scenery, and convenient distance from the centre of the metropolis is not to be met with; and when it is taken into consideration that persons may here erect buildings agreeably to their own wishes, either of stone, brick, wood, or iron, without being obliged to conform to the restrictions of the Building Act, it at once stamps the real value and importance of these valuable allotments. It has also to be borne in mind that they are situated on a good tumpike road, within a stone's throw of the boundary of the city, and free from all taxation, which at once elucidates the value of the same, particularly when building land in such situations is not to be met with.

Dimensions of the allotments now for sale, as exhibited on the plan, as laid out and aurveyed by Mr. Surveyer B. J. H. Knapp.
No. 1, the origininal allotment No. 10, frontage 40 feet, dopth 61 feet 10} inches
No. 2, ditto, No. 12, ditto 40 feet, disto 70 feet 104 inches

These last ten allotments have all frontages to the main road from Sydney to Botany, dividing the hamlet of Redfern from the hamlet of Chippendale.

Mr. A. P., therefore, invites capitalists, builders, mechanics, and others to attend on the day of sale, and evince their judgment by spiritedly competing for some of these allotments, as such another opportunity is never likely again to occur; and fortunate beyond the shadow of a doubt will be the purchasers thereof on the 30th day of August next.

Lot 2 is allotment No. 2, of section No. 5, and has a frontage to Mackay-street of 86 feet, with 330 feet deep; clso half-an-acre and near to the Court House, Police Establishment, Market, and Pound.

The position of this tewn was most happily chosen on the banks of the Williams River, in the County of Durham, a considerable way below the Chichester River, which, with the Williams, flows from the Mount Royal Runges both rivers being famous for the clearness and purity of their water. In this township are excellent dwelling-houses, schools, inns. a court house, lock-up, and a handsome police barracks, a magnificent steam flour mill, a church, with a peal of bells.

In the neighbourhood is Thalaba, the splenchurch, with a peal of bells.

In the neighbourhood is Thalaba, the splendid estate of the late respected Chief Justice, Sir James Dowling, Kut., which belonged to the late Mr. Matcham, who was a nephew of the immortal Lord Ne'son.

Mr. A. P. feels confident that the lucky purchaser of this allotment will enhance a large profit by the purchase of these excellent situated allotments, more especially as (see Maitland Mercury), gold as valuable as the Peel River gold has been found in the vicinity of Dungog, and brought to Maitland during the last week.

TOWN OF SCONE.

A. A. POLACK will sell by auction, at 11 o'clock, on THURSDAY, September 8,
One of the most desirable Allotments in Scone, the chief town of the county of Brisbane, in the diocese of Newcastle.

This allotment contains half an acre, and has a frontage of 66 feet to Kingdon-street, by a depth of 330 feet to the estate of Captain Dumareaq, known as Saint Aubins.

This town is without exception one of the prettiest little places in the Northern Districts, brought particularly into notice since the Northern Gold Fields, known as Bingera and the Hanging Rock Diggings, were discovered. The costly buildings of Thomas Dangar, Eq., and other influential gentenen in the township, cannot but make one envious of their freshold inheritances, and the Auctioneer therefore airongly recommends this sliotment to the notice of newly arrived immigrants who are looking out for a spot whereon they may erect a store to accumulate a portion of the hard earnings of the returned fortunate diggers from New England and Liverpool Plains.

R. A. POLACK feels much pleamer in the public of New South Wales, that at 11 o'clock on 'IUESDAY, the 30th September next, he will submit to public competition at Russell's Long Room, Pitt-street.

TWENTY-TWO ALLOTMENTS OF THE BURWOOD B-TATE, adjoining the property of Mrs. Underwood, known as the Ashfield Estate, opposite the numerous proprietors of the Brighton Estate, and the princely Estate of Canterbury, belonging to the respected family of the late Robert Campbell, Esq., former'y M.C. in the Old Nominee Council of New Bouth Wales, of which Robert Campbell, Esq., for the City of Sydney, and John Campbell, Esq., J.P., are the heads; as well as contiguous to the seats and residences of other highly respectable general management of the New Church of Ashfield, built principally through the liberality of the late M.L.C. for Syduey, Dr. Bland, founder of the Sydney College.

Mr. A. Polack, in thus giving a simple description of the boundaries of this unequalled Estate, feels himself perfectly satisfied the same would be quite sufficient tog-tamp the unprecedent d value thereof to a wise and discerning public, whom he has the pleasure to address with ut eulogy; but he trusts a few remarks which spontaneously release themselves from his mind will not be considered illtimed or unseemly, but will merit what they deserve.

Recreative pleasures are also at timmediate commend, such as bunting, shooting, angling, fishing, &c., and distant from the centre of the metropolis nothing more than a comfortable walk along a most excellent, well-frequented, and macedamized road, under the superintendence of the Sydney Turnpike Road Trust, with B. GOOD HEALTH.

The neighbourhood, as residences for respectable first-class gentlemen, cannot be rivalled without difficulty; also abundant supplies of fine fresh water may at all seasons be obtained.

who reside in the interior, would also find some of these plots worthy their consideration, as when business peremptorily requires their attendance in the Metropolis, for the sale of their Wool, Cattle, Sheep, and the Diggers their gold, convenient spots could here be selected where they might with their families enjoy the pleasure of the town, at the same time they were attending to the markets, as they would in fact be still living on spots tantamount without the inconveniency of being studded within the confines of a tavern or inn. Market gardeners, florists, and surserymen would also find the land of this most peculiar estate particularly adapted to their several requirements, being not only in the first instance so convenient to the capital, but also of a rich quality, a great portion having been originally under culture.

To the capitalist for a speculative point such another chance is never again likely to present itself—as in the course of a very short period hence Mr. A. P. feels assuredly confident, from past experience in his public avocation, that the land comprising this estate will be sold by the roor in place of the acre as is now most liberally offered to the public.

To Messra. Hovell and Hume, those most indefatigable travellers, is due the praise of having first discovered this most enchanting portion of her Majesty's dominions in the autumn of 1824, followed up by the unparalleled and untiring energies of Lieutenant Colonel Sir Thomas Livingstone Mitchell, Knt., Surveyor-General of New South Wales. whose real was neither damped nor effort repressed, though much difficulty appeared in penetrating into some of the inland parts.

He says, in alluding to this part of the province, "We traversed in two directions with heavy carta, meeting no other obstruction than the softness of the soil; and in returning over flowery plains and green hills, fanned by the breeze of early spring, I named this region the better to distinguish it from the parched deserts of the interior country, where we had wandered so unprofitably and so long. From the richoes of the soil, and the salubrity of the climate, it is one of the finest portions of Australia."

His Excellency Major-General Sir Richard Bourke, K.C.B., then Governor of New South Wales, as a lasting memory of the talents of so high and distinguished an Australian explorer, recorded the name of this future provincial city, MITCHEILSTOWN, and the county of which it is the capital, DALHOUSIE, after the Right Honorable Lord Dalhousie, Governor-General of Indis.

Mr. A. Polack, in pointing out to the speculators of Town Properties, adds the following paragraph extracted from the last Gold Circular, issued by Mr. Edward Khull, Bullion Broker, 65, Great Collins-street West, Malbourne. 'A correspondent on the Goulburn river, on whose statements the utmost reliance may be placed, communicates the following:—'I write to state that a new Gold Field has been discovered about twelve miles distant. There are at present about fifty diggers at work, and about 200 on the road. . . . A nogget weighing about 4 ounces has been obtained, and the washing stuff has yielded as much as six ounces per load. It is of course, premature to say to what extent the auriferous country may extend, but it has long been the opinion of people who know this part of the

MR. A. POLACK has been instructed to sell by public auction, on THURS-DAY, the lat September next, at 11 o'clock, at Russell's Long Room, Pitt-street.

The many applicants for this favoured spot has been submitted to the proprietor, but that gentleman, being about to proceed to England, is determined in this instance, as well as the whole of his other properties, to place them before the public for competition.

The situation is unrivalled, and speaks for itself without the assistance of the auctioneer's aid, merely to place it before the public.

It is necessary to state that if there is one spot more than another for a building allotment, for an establishment of any description, this is THE SPOT.

This cotablishment has been in full operation This establishment has been in full operation for a considerable time past, under the able superintendence of Mr. Gedye, who came out from Bagland with the appointment of manager; and the testimonials and certificates which have at various times appeared in the public journals bear incontrovertible evidence that he has succeeded mo t perfectly in turning out a first rate article of consumption and seneral demand.

inat he has succeeded mo t perfectly in turning out a first rate article of consumption and general demand.

It is most favourably situated with regard to the northern districts, and if, as is the case, bullocks can be killed in Maithand, and the carcases brought to Pydney by the steamers with advantage, the very best can be procured at Newcastle at a triffing cost; and it is well known that the hides and tallow will, in most cases, pay for the carcass meat.

The quantity of preserved meats forwarded to Sydney during the past year was between 30,000 and 40,000 tins, independent of the local consumption by vessels calling in at the port; and there can be no doubt that the Indian market could be ratirly supplied from this colony, as well as Her Majesty's navy in other seas, could a permanent supply be depended upon.

The establishment could be extended to a soap and cand. manufactory, in conjunction with the preserving; and a proprietor residing on the spot, possessed of a little capital, to take advantage of the market, and energy enough to enter fully into operations, would speedily acquire a handsome independence.

A quantity of tin plate and other requisite materials on band, to be taken at a valuation.

A good opening offers itself to any enterprising man to carry on this business, which must shortly work itself into great importance; and ing man to carry on this business, which must shortly work itself into great importance; and the capitalist can here invest his money to ad-vantage, as the mother country will naturally look to her colonies for those supplies which a continental firm could not furnish without the

Lot 2.

THE TRADESMAN'S ARMS' INN, MUSWELLBROOK, in the leading thoroughfare to the whole of the northern gold fields, and on the line of the Hunter River railroad, which will extend to the foot of the Dividing Range.

This Inn has been licensed for years, and is at present leased to a respectable tenant. It consists of a substantial brick-built house, with verandah, in good repair, and contains two sitting rooms and three bedrooms, with detached kitchen, stable, stores, and other out-offices, standing upon a corner allotment in a most central position in the town, commanding a first-rate business.

Muswellbrook is about 60 miles from Maitland, and in the centre of some of the finest estates in the northern districts.

At 11 o'clock,

51 Fine Buildington,

At Paddington,

aituate at the junction of the old South Head Road and the Point Piper Boad, nineteen of which have a frontage to the latter.

These allotments are on the table land on the heights of the South Head Road, and command a beautiful view on every side. They are a most convenient distance from Sydney, and the soil is adapted for the erection of buildings without the expense of quarrying for foundations or excavating in sand.

The land has been laid out into allotments, with reserved roads for the convenience of the future proprietors, and a more choice position six months, with Bank interest added.

M. R. MORT is instructed by Peter Imlay, Eq., to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on PRIDAY, 26th
August, at 11 o'clock, That gentleman's very valuable stations and sheep, which he is disposing of in consequence of his leaving the colony.

THE SHEEP,
which are sound and never were diseased.

which are sound and never were diseased consist of about 3500 wethers, two to six tooth 4450 ewes, two tooth to aged 2000 lambs

10,020 more or less.

The quality of which is well understood, as Mr. Imlay's stock is found throughout the colony.

THE STATIONS

—known as Bega, and Double Creek—are of excellent description, the first-named station being the first selected in the district. The country is well watered and grassed in all seasons, lightly timbered and sound.

There is a large quanti y of first-rate cultivation land, which is purchaseable under the pre-emptive right at the upset price of one pound per sers. This land, from its proximity to the shipping port, would realize high prices if sold in small arms.

The run will carry about 13,000 sheep, and it has upon it all necessary improvements, viz. THE STATIONS it has upon it all necessary improvements, viz., Superintendent's dwelling, with garden well stocked with fruit tr. es.

Two cultivation paddocks, receiving huts at the out stations, hurdles, &c.
A mob of eattle, comprising, it is supposed, about 800 head, which the purchaser will have time allowed for taking delivery of.

The proving of the great value of the carcase, to say nothing of the great value of the lands obtainable under the pre-emptive right, this property is pre-eminently desirable as an inv. stment.

The proximity of the station to the sea-port into sproperty is pre-eminently desirable as an inv. stment.

The proximity of the station to the sea-port renders the shipping of the wool a matter of trifling cost, whilst the position it cocupies, with reference to the Port Phillip and Sydney market, is highly desirable.

The departure of Mr. Imlay for New Zealand is the only reason for disposing of a property profitable to work, and delightful to reside upon. The climate is most enjoyable, the seenery exceedingly good, and the soil most productive. *An energetic proprietor may form a thriving village upon the station, as the lands are highly desirable for cultivation and dairy work, and the market close to the port, which is only a few miles from the station.

PRESHOLD CITY PROPERTY.
Day of Sale, PRIDAY, August 26.

M. R. MORT has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY. August 26, the following first-rate and eligible City Properties, either in one lot or divided. They are situated in Winomill and Kent streets.

Lot 1.—A two-storied atone-built House, containing five rooms and attached kitchen, having 35 feet frontage to Windmill-street, with a depth of 40 feet, with back entrance. This House is now and has been for several years occupied by Mr. Wingfield, a retail butcher.

Lot 2 is a large two-storied atone-built House, aituated at the corner of Kent and Windmill streets, having a frontage to the former of 42 feet 10 inches, and to the latter of 45 feet, and contains eleven rooms, including cellarage and kitchen. These extensive premises were formerly known as "the Napoleon Inn," but for the two last years, as the "Cheshire Cheese," and are tenanted by Mr. Hill, a respectable innheeper.

The above houses command a beautiful view of the Harbour, from which they, on account of their situation, can never he all ut cut.

Lot 3 is a weather boarded verandah Cottage, having a frontage of 40 feet to Kentureet, by a drepth of 80 feet, and containing four rooms, detached kitchen, large shed and yerd, in which are smither workshops.

Lot 2.
9i perches land adjoining the above, and of the same dimensions, being allotment No. 13 of section 104
Lot 3.
8i perches of land in Old Barrack-square, being allotment No. 7 of section 4, having a frontage of 22 feet 10 inches to Wynwardsquare, by a depth of 101 feet 11 inches tolane in the rear, 20 feet wide.
Mr. Mort begas to direct the particular attention of the numerous enquiriers after land on the Circular Wharf to the important lots now offered—important because the purchaser of the first lot will have the option of securing both, and such a frontage in the immediate vicinity of the Circular Quay is rarely to be met with. The block in the Old Barracksquare is adapted for a first-class building, either as stores or private dwelling-house, and there can be no doubt but that this spot will be the principal business mart of the metropolis.

CUAL PIRID IN OPERATION.
60 ACRES OF LAND.
Day of sale, Tuesday, 6th September.

M.R. MOR'T has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, on TURSDAY, 6th September, st 11 o'clock, 60 acres of Land in the immediate vicinity of Maitland, well known as Brown's Coal Mines, now in full operation, subject to the following leases.

30 acres, leased for 21 years, from 1st January, 1862, for the yearly rental of £20.
18 acres and 2 roods, leased for 3 years from 5th April, 1863, for £62 per annum, and 6d, per ton for every ton of coals raised above 40 tons per week.

11 acres, leased on the 11th Jane, 1863, for 3 years, for £62 per annum, and 6d, per ton for every ton of coals raised above 40 tons per week.

The land in question contains two seams

3 years, for £52 per annum, and 6d. per ton for every ton of coals raised above 40 tons per week.

The land in question contains two seams of coal, the upper seem being 5 feet 6 inches thick, and the lower one 4 feet 6 inches; the first being a strong, bright, serviceable coal, realizing as high a price as any in the Bydney market. The second seam is about 60 feet below the upper one, and produces the fuel so well know as Brown's steam coal, equal to the best Welch, and it has been used for some years by the steam fleet of the Australasian Steam Mavigation Company, as also by the Cleopatra and other steamers in the port, and was formerly used on board the Juno, Captain Kirsopp. These seams extend throughout the 60 acres.

The adjoining block of land is in possession of an English company, having ben secured by W. F. De Salis, Esq.

The Hunter River Railway Company, which may be presumed to be in operation when the three years' leases have expired, will increase the value of the mines to a great degree, as the coat of conveyance to Newcastle will be materially lessened. Being in the vicinity of Maitland, the mines have the advantage of a local market as well as the steamers coaling at Morpeth.

Mr. Mr et begs to draw the attention of capitalists to this important sale, if considered or ly local market as well as the steamers could at Morpeth.

Mr. Mr rt begs to draw the attention of capitalists to this important sale, if considered only as a means of investment, as upon the expiration of the shorter leases the return upon any outlay may be calculated as a compound interest, which will exceed the most sauguine expectations of the purchaser.
